FOREWORD

The PIARC World Road Congresses held every four years are milestones in the activities of the association especially for the Technical Committees. The congresses give the opportunity to present and submit for discussion the result of the work carried out over the past three years, while Strategic Direction Sessions contribute to identify the topics for study for the following work cycle.

Organizing the World Road Congress is a complex operation involving coordination of many contributors, i.e. strategic theme coordinators; Technical Committees chairs, secretaries and members; organizing committee of the host country and related bodies; PIARC General Secretariat and other international organizations invited to take part in several sessions. All this is placed under the supervision of the PIARC Executive Committee and PIARC Council.

This « Congress Handbook » aims at providing coordination and guidelines to prepare the sessions of the 24th PIARC World Road Congress to be held in Mexico City in 2011. These guidelines come in addition to the day-to-day operating rules included in the PIARC Blue Guide.

This Handbook is intended to be read and used by all those in charge of organizing a session or part of a Congress session.

The calendar for decisions and deadlines for delivering the various congress documents has been developed so as to allow maximum time to prepare them. Meeting the deadlines is essential to make sure that the congress announcements and documents are produced in time. Your cooperation is requested to meet these deadlines strictly.

The contents of the Handbook will be updated in the coming months as decisions are made on the topics of the various sessions. The guidelines on the format of documents will be presented in several appendices to this document.

Jean-François CORTÉ
Secretary General

2.2.1 Strategic Direction Sessions

The Strategic Direction Sessions, prepared and chaired by Strategic Theme Coordinators, are devoted to the four Themes of the PIARC Strategic Plan 2008-2011.

Aims

The Strategic Direction Sessions are to be:

- cross-linking; each Strategic Direction Session covers the areas of all Technical Committees belonging to the same Strategic Theme,
- future-oriented; topical road issues will be discussed; the purpose of these sessions is also to facilitate the identification of future activities of the Technical Committees after the Mexico City Congress,
- open; these sessions may include external contributions not only from Technical Committees belonging to other Strategic Themes, but also from keynote speakers outside PIARC.

The Strategic Direction Sessions should focus on the future prospects from a more political and strategic point of view and should NOT repeat the work of Technical Committees.

Conclusions of these sessions are aimed at defining the direction of the Technical Committee activities under the framework of the future Strategic Plan. After the Mexico City Congress and before the end of 2011, these sessions will be followed by a meeting of the Strategic Planning Commission so as to finalise the orientations of the works of Technical Committees for the following four-year period 2012-2015 and to start the Technical Committee activities as early as the beginning of 2012.

For the Strategic Direction Sessions, each Strategic Theme Coordinator may call for National Reports and individual papers in order to facilitate discussion from various points of views. Section 3.3 and Section 3.4 describe the National Reports and individual papers in detail respectively.

Format

The format of the Strategic Direction Sessions may include:

- a very brief summary of the Introductory Report emphasising the main trends and emerging topics of significant interest with regard to the Strategic Theme and the Strategic Direction Session topic in particular,
- presentations,
- panel and/or discussion with the audience,
- at the end of the session, a short summary by the Strategic Theme Coordinator.

During the Strategic Direction Sessions, substantial time should be devoted to discussion. Outside keynote speakers can be invited to participate. Special facilities can be provided such as payment by PIARC of costs related to the participation of keynote speakers, a professional facilitator, etc. as decided by the PIARC Council upon recommendation of the PIARC Executive Committee.

Main deadlines

The issues selected for the Strategic Direction Sessions will be agreed by the Executive Committee in September 2009.

A foreword by the Strategic Theme Coordinator will be inserted as an introduction to the report on activities of the Technical Committees, grouped according to the Strategic Plan.

3.2.3 Format

The PIARC Activity Report 2008-2011 is to be published in English, French and Spanish. Technical Committees are responsible for translations. As for general drafting rules, please refer to the Appendix 5.

The maximum number of pages for a Committee Activity report is 20 in one language. One page can contain up to 500 words. Taking account of the pages for the title, references and illustrations, the text of the report for each Committee is limited to approximately 6,000 words in one language.

All Technical Committees activity reports should reach the PIARC General Secretariat before 31 March 2011.

The PIARC Activity Report 2008-2011 will be distributed to the Congress delegates as a part of the pre-proceedings.

3.3. National Reports (Only for the Strategic Direction Sessions)

For the Strategic Direction Sessions, the Strategic Theme Coordinators may call for National Reports.

National Reports are a tradition, which has contributed to PIARC's reputation. The reports offer the opportunity to all member countries to express themselves, bearing in mind that not all member countries are represented on Technical Committees.

National Reports should be concise and describe successful or unsuccessful experiences. The content of the "National" Report may refer to the federal, state or even regional level.

The text of all the call for National Reports will be circulated to the First Delegates and the National Committees of member countries by the PIARC General Secretariat in April 2010. Member countries have about six months (April to October 2010) to answer if they wish to do so.

For this purpose, the texts of the call for National Reports prepared by the Strategic Theme Coordinators should reach the PIARC General Secretariat before 31 January 2010 (see 2.2.1).

There is no specific format for the National Reports. For each PIARC Strategic Theme, a country can choose to address all or only part of the issues raised in the call for National Reports.

The content should:

- be original and unpublished before the Congress,
- refer to the federal, state or regional level,
- deal with topics that present new information that would be of interest to the world road community,
- not include any advertising nor any paragraph of a commercial or political nature (the PIARC General Secretariat reserves the right to delete such paragraphs).

Authors can prepare reports representative of the federal, national, regional or local level. When reports are drafted by a regional or local entity, this should be mentioned at the beginning of the report.

Contributions to different Strategic Themes should be presented in separate reports (one National Report per Strategic Theme).

The recommended maximum length for each National Report is 15 pages (approximately 8,000 words). Please pay attention to the size of any digitized illustrations in order to limit, whenever possible, the total size of the electronic file to 1Mo.

The National Reports shall be submitted to the PIARC General Secretariat in both English and French (a Spanish version may also be submitted in addition to those in English or French) before 31 October 2010 to allow the Strategic Theme Coordinators to prepare their Strategic Direction Sessions and draft their own Introductory Reports.

For drafting National Reports, general rules will be attached to the text of the call for National Reports circulated to member countries (see Appendix 2). In addition, specific guidelines for drafting may be added by the Coordinator.

The National Reports will be distributed to Congress delegates as a part of pre-proceedings.

3.4. Individual Papers

As an additional input to the preparation of sessions, Chairpersons of Technical Committees and Strategic Theme Coordinators can make an international call for individual papers.

Individual papers accepted in a World Road Congress must be of high quality and original.

The Chairs of Technical Committees and Strategic Theme Coordinators may choose from the following alternatives:

- select papers from abstracts received after the call for papers,
- invite speakers directly without call for papers,
- combine the above options,
- make no call for papers.

The international call for individual papers will proceed as follows:

- Chairs of Technical Committees and Strategic Theme Coordinators wishing to make a call for papers will forward the text of their call for individual papers to the PIARC General Secretariat before 31 January 2010; the text should include the list of topics open for individual papers and contain no more than 200 words in one language for each session;
- The international call for individual papers will be available on-line in April 2010;
- Authors will be requested to send in their abstracts in preferably both English and French to the PIARC General Secretariat before 30 September 2010;
- The Technical Committees and the Strategic Theme Coordinators will review and select abstracts. Decisions will be notified to the authors before 15 November 2010 together with guidelines for drafting the full text of individual papers.

Appendix 3 presents the general format of the.

- Authors should send in the full text of their papers to the PIARC General Secretariat before 28 February 2011 in either English or French (they may send a Spanish version as well if desired). This deadline also applies to the papers of invited speakers.
- The PIARC General Secretariat shall forward to each session Chair for review a copy of the individual papers as soon as they reach the Central Office.
- Decision regarding acceptance and presentation (oral presentation or poster) of the papers will be notified to the authors before 15 May 2011 together with the guidelines for preparation of the posters and of the oral presentations.

The individual papers will be distributed to Congress delegates as a part of pre-proceedings, for those which reached the PIARC General Secretariat before 31 May 2011. Otherwise they will be included in the final proceedings.

3.5. General Report

The General Report is a comprehensive summary which reflects the results of the work of PIARC since the Paris Congress and the conclusions of the discussions in the Congress sessions of Mexico. It reflects the views of the Association.

The draft of the General Report is prepared by the host country. The host country will nominate a General Reporter.

Preparation of the draft General Report should start sufficiently before the Congress (e.g. from around the beginning of 2011). The draft General Report will be submitted, before the Congress, to the Strategic Planning Commission for consideration.

For every session of the congress, the Mexican Organizing Committee will appoint a young professional as technical secretary of the session. This responsibility will be to produce a brief report of the main aspect of the discussions of the session.

During the Congress, the General Reporter will be in charge of collecting conclusions of all the sessions. Should contradictory conclusions arise from different sessions the General Reporter shall contact the Chairpersons of the sessions concerned.

Immediately after the Congress, the final version of the General Report will be sent for validation to the chairpersons of the congress (for what is of concern to them) and to the Secretary General before it is forwarded to the Strategic Planning Commission for review and amendments if necessary. The final draft must be ready, in English and French, before 15-November 2011.

The General Report will be published in the January 2012 issue of the Association's magazine Routes/Roads (in English and French) and as a part of the final proceedings (in English, French and Spanish) in March 2012.

3.6. Detailed conclusions of the Sessions

Shortly after each session, on the site of the Congress, all Chairs of sessions will hand in to the General Reporter and the PIARC General Secretariat the final text of their approved conclusions in both English and French (they may send a Spanish version as well if they wish so). Conclusions should be drafted carefully, short and clear cut, which explains why they should be prepared in advance. They should be future-oriented.

It is recommended that conclusions include three parts maximum:

- the first part for decision makers (Minister, Head of Road Directorate, etc.),
- the second part devoted to technical aspects,
- the third part to the attention of international road organizations and PIARC itself.

The text of conclusions from a Technical Committee Session or a Strategic Direction Session should not exceed 1,000 words in one language (approximately two pages).

Appendix 6 summarizes the contents of the pre-processing and the proceedings.

In addition, the January 2012 issue of the magazine "Routes/Roads" will be entirely devoted to the sessions of the Mexico City Congress, just like the issue No. 336/337, January 2008, for the Paris Congress in 2007.

5. PIARC PRIZES 2011

PIARC is organizing a new edition of the PIARC Prizes competition for the XXIV^h World Road Congress in 2011. The aim of this competition is to highlight the road sector in general and the World Road Association-PIARC in particular.

PIARC Prizes will be awarded among individual contributions as result of the call for papers for the congress. Process of selection is to be determined by the Commission on Communication and International Relations.

Prior to the Mexico Congress, the result of the competition will be announced before July 15th, 2011 to the winners and the first delegates of their country. The winners will be invited to participate in the Congress and will receive their awards during the Congress.

Award of the PIARC Prizes will be held during the opening session.

The possibility for the winners to make a presentation during the Congress will be investigated.

Entries were called for on the following themes:

- "Young professionals" sponsored by Canada-Quebec (paper presented by authors less than 30 years of ages)

PREPARATION AND RUNNING OF THE SESSIONS

5.1. Session programmes

For publication in the Congress Guide, the Chairs of the sessions will be requested to forward to the PIARC General Secretariat the programme of their session before 31 May 2011.

The session programme should include the following information:

- Title of the session,
- Date and time,
- Name, affiliation and titles of Chair and co-chairs (if exist) and presenters,
- Theme of sub-sessions, panel discussions and roundtables,
- Titles of presentations,
- Time line.

Example for the session programmes is available in Appendix 7.

5.2. Interpretation

Professional interpreters will provide simultaneous interpretation into English, French and Spanish at the sessions.

The quality of the interpretation largely depends on the degree of preparation of the teams. This is why it is important for the interpreters to receive from PIARC the main documents several weeks before the Congress. The PIARC General Secretariat will ensure the liaison between Session Chairs and interpreters.

5.3. Visual Aids

The clarity of sessions depends greatly on the quality of visual aids. Appendix 8 contains the guidelines regarding visual aids, which will be provided to speakers.

All the speakers at the Congress will have to bring their visual presentation to the preview room at least the day before their presentation.

5.4. Invited Speakers

For the Strategic Direction or Special Sessions, PIARC could envisage inviting outside speakers (e.g. representatives of road users, environmentalists associations, etc.). The corresponding rules will be defined in due time.

A specific budget will be allocated on PIARC's funds to contribute to travel and accommodation costs for guest speakers. This decision will be made by PIARC Council on recommendation of PIARC Executive Committee.
